No.3-TR(47)/98-Main 2003

Dated: June 3,

Sub: Accreditation of Quality System - reg

It has been observed from the inspection reports received from the Academic Councils that some of the Training Institutes do not fully comply with the Quality System of ISO-9001-2000 and as a result the training activities do not meet quality standards. This Directorate has taken a serious view of the deficiencies in the quality system of the organizational structure. All institutes are therefore advised to adhere to the quality system in letter and spirit in order to ensure excellence in training in all maritime institutes approved by the Director General of Shipping.
